Thursday Oct 1 Lay off and on threw the sheet at 5 A.M sent in the first second and third mates a fishing and whaling if they saw any whale they had been in shore about an hour and had caught about a half boat load of fish each when they raised a cow and calf Mr Glenworthy struck the cow and was run along the breakers for some ways when the boat was caught by a blind breaker and thrown nearly against the rocks ended over and that was the last that was seen of the boat or any of her crew The other two boats wer but a few rods from the boat when she capsized Mr Fish had shot a bomb into the whale but a moment before and after the fatal accident Mr Fish and Smith both anchored there boats as near the place as

Loss of a whole boat crew, m. Montevideo, as I think from Mysia

P. 76-77

as they laid for the Breakers and waited for three hours when the fish came on board and left the Smith who lay there until 3 PM when it got to be so rough could lay their no longer saw nothing to indicate that any of the crew had got on shore. In fact there was hardly a possible chance for any one to land for the seas were breaking 20 feet high against an almost perpendicular cleft

Friday Oct 2 Blowing strong from NW threw the day standing off and on under close reef topsails

Saturday Oct 3 Light winds from SW went in at the place that the boat was lost could not get nearer than 150 fathoms of the shore for the Breakers examined the shore nearly half round the I with a glass but could see nothing of the lost boat or any of her crew. Saw one whale caught some fish

Sunday Oct 4 In rainy and blowing fresh PM Moderate and clear 11 AM saw and picked up the boats stem and clumsey cleft boat mast a few pieces of the sail & hanging to it a couple of lams warps a fish line and the fluke rope all tangled together and chafed up by pounding on the rocks.
